The Small Business Authority Releases The February 2013 SB Authority Index

The SB Authority Index Shows Minimal Growth Within The Small Business Economy

NEW YORK, March 28, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Newtek Business Services, Inc., NASDAQ: NEWT, The Small Business Authority, announced that its SB Authority Index of small business indicators for February 2013 reached 117.08 points. Approved SBA gross lending volume and the Russell Microcap Index led the increase. The SB Authority Index is up .25% from January 2013.

President and CEO, Barry Sloane said, "A significant drag on the small and medium size business sector has been the slow growth of new business formations, as well as limited growth in new job creation. These factors, coupled with a less than robust rise in retail sales, caused the SB Authority Index of small business indicators to increase ever so slightly in February over January's number."
